WELCOME TO GRAUBUNDEN

Even with Switzerland's competitive repertoire of awe-inspiring scenery, delicious cheese and chocolate, world-class medical spas, and leading boarding schools, the canton (state) of Graubunden stands out. Renowned as one of the grandest of the Swiss Alpine Valleys, its supermodel looks are home to the classic children's novel, Heidi, the sparkly ski resorts of St. Moritz, and the shimmering Lake Caumasee - one of Switzerland's most beautiful lakes.

Perfect for families seeking spectacular outdoor adventure, each region of the canton is only a hop, skip, and a jump away.

Taking the title for the easternmost and largest canton of Switzerland - bordering Austria, Italy, and Liechtenstein - when asked what makes this place so special, locals wax lyrical about its wild, natural beauty coupled with the finer things in life.

A place of bright green valleys, snow-capped peaks and shimmering Alpine lakes, days are spent hiking among the craggy ravines of the Rhine Gorge (otherwise known as the little Swiss Grand Canyon), experiencing the ultimate in thermal water healing at one of its many world-renowned spas, or taking a train through glacial landscapes so supremely beautiful that it's aptly been titled among the most spectacular train journeys in the world.

Officially the only trilingual canton, its Swiss-German, Italian, and Romansh influences ensure the culinary scene is a delicious ensemble of local specialties enhanced with the starred performances of Michelin chefs. Beyond food, you'll find an incredible wine offering that includes light, expressive and deliciously aromatic wines passed down from the Romans almost 2000 years ago.

Of course, in a place where everything outstanding appears to be somehow magnetically drawn to this one canton, it's no surprise that it's also home to palatial hotels curated by some of the world's architectural greats.

So, welcome to Graubunden! Indeed, you may not be able to pronounce its name yet, but with a destination as humbling, amazing, and surprising as this, be warned, your memories will last a lifetime!

Lenzerheide

Ride the longest toboggan run in Switzerland

Dubai might be the best at building the biggest and tallest, but Graubunden takes the prize for building the longest Toboggan run. Boasting 31 twists and turns and a length of 3,060 meters (10,039 ft), let's be honest - it's not just the kids that will enjoy this ride. Take the four-seater chairlift to the top, then lean into the curves and enjoy the crisp Alpine air and magnificent views! Afterward, test your skills in the rope park or on the spectacular zip line.

Master downhill riding in the Lenzerheide Bikepark

Located between the Scharmoen middle station and the Rothorn valley station lies the Lenzerheide Bikepark. Whatever your level of experience, five routes of varying difficulty provide a unique biking adventure.

Indulge in fondue, raclette and local specialties

Numerous restaurants serve up a selection of traditional Graubunden dishes. Whether you are in the mood for Gault Millau and Michelin starred ambiance or prefer a cozy restaurant nestled in the mountains, the choices are endless.

Paddle a craft in Lake Heidsee

Enchanting and picturesque in equal measures, Lake Heidsee is the local lake of Lenzerheide. A hub of all things aquatic, families flock here in the summer to rent pedalos (candy pink and shaped like vintage speed boats—perfect for grandma!), SUP's, kayaks and the like. In fact, there are so many fun-looking watercraft that a whole day could easily be spent just trialing one after the other. If you prefer to watch from the shoreline, the delightful kiosk and restaurant overlooking the shimmering waters make for a perfect spot for lakeside leisure. There are also walking trails around the lake, and the ultimate arrival is, of course, by horse and carriage.

Make friends with Globi and the squirrels

Notoriously famous in the German-speaking parts of Switzerland, Globi is a Swiss cartoon character occasionally referred to as Switzerland's Mickey Mouse. Perhaps not recognized by children; nevertheless, his fun and quirky ways will be instantly loved by kids who follow in his trail. Newly opened in 2018, the Globi Hiking Trail comprises of 13 stations at which Globi playfully explains topics such as nature and technology in an interactive way.

For those interested in getting up close to Graubunden's furry friend, the squirrel, the Eichhörnchenwald (squirrel forest) is a perfect place for a stroll. Remember to bring hazelnuts to get even closer to the tame ones who dart across the path.

Scuol

Scuol – Graubunden Tourism

Known for its Roman-Irish baths and unique mineral springs, aristocracy, poets and visitors have been coming to the spa town of Scuol since the mid-1300s.

Bathe like a Roman one minute, Irish the next

Romans swore by the relaxing properties of steam, while the Irish placed their faith in hot, dry air. The thermal bath-house of Bogn Engiadina marries the two to create one single, first-in-Switzerland, bathing ritual.

Encounter bears, wolves, and all things wild

Europe's first national park dates back to the late 19th century and amasses some 170km² (65 sq. mi) of natural landscape. The park plays host to guided excursions, activities for children, and exhibitions. For the fit, there is an 80km (49 mi) network of walking trails and a peak of 3,174m (10,413 ft) to summit.

St. Moritz

St. Moritz certainly needs no introduction. Although interestingly, before its rise to winter stardom, it was just a small town in the Engadin Valley more revered for its summertime activities and healing mineral springs. Whether you are an outdoor enthusiast or want to relax in total luxury (or do a bit of both) - St. Moritz offers something for everyone.

Shop like a Hollywood heroine

If your thrills come from opening your pocketbook, then Via Serlas shopping district is a must-see. Indeed, St. Moritz may be small, but it is a prominent force in the world of fashion. For something a little more Swiss, try the Lamm Cashmere House, a family-run boutique that has been selling quality knits for decades - definitely the chicest way to stay warm!

Eat your fill of Engadin tart

A gourmet mecca for foodies, St. Moritz boasts one in ten restaurants with a world-class restaurant rating. This comes as no surprise, given the sunny Alpine town's reputation for everything haute.

For those who need to satisfy their sweet tooth, the Engadin walnut tart is the ultimate guilty pleasure filled with cream, caramel, and chunky walnuts.

Ride the rails

The famed Bernina Express is the highest rail journey in Europe and, arguably, the most beautiful in the world. Connecting the Swiss and Italian Alps, railfans can cross suspension bridges over bold gorges, gasp at the flawless views of icy blue lakes, and be awed at the wonder of the Bernina Range and cascading Piz Palù Glacier.

Sun yourself in lakeside leisure

In the winter, Lake St. Moritz is a frozen arena for horseracing, polo, cricket matches, and all things Avant-Garde, but in summer, the rowers, sailing boats, fishermen, and stand-up paddleboarders (SUPs) take over. Whatever your sport, head lakeside in the early morning to watch the first rays of sunshine dance on the water's surface.

Explore themed trails

The Engadin valley is famous for its dramatic high peaks, lush meadows, and blue, cloudless skies. After the snow melts, a carpet of green pastures covered with wildflowers is revealed, making this the perfect backdrop for exploring the area on foot. The most spectacular views can be found in the areas of Corviglia, Corvatsch, and Diavolezza, but the view from Muottas Muragl is arguably the most beautiful.

Watch night turn into day as you flow-ride a peak

Mountain bikers can enjoy over 400km (248 mi) of trails and marked routes. Corviglia is something of an insider's tip, boasting flow and single Alpine trails. A highlight for early risers is the Piz Nair sunrise. The railway and cable car open before dawn so that cyclists can reach the top of Piz Nair station, which soars majestically to 3056m (10,026 ft). Watch in awe as the sun begins to appear from behind the mountain peaks, turning night into day.

Explore the beauty of Viamala Gorge

Along the route from St. Moritz to Lenzerheide, take a detour to the majestic Viamala Gorge. Formed by glacial ice and the waters of the Hinterrhein, there are still vivid traces of the fascinating history of this unique place.

Rhaetian Railway

The Rhaetian Railway (RhB) is a mountain railroad network whose lines connect Italy to Switzerland via a long labyrinth of wide valleys, tunnels, and winding mountain paths. Railfans can delight in a number of different experiences ranging from UNESCO World Heritage Sites, steam trains, luxury Pullman cars, open scenic carriages, and gourmet dining cars, to name a few.

The railway is home to two of the most famous railway lines in the world: the Glacier Express and Bernina Express. The Glacier Express is touted as the “Slowest Fast Train in the World”. It includes an eight-hour panoramic journey that traverses the Swiss Alps from St. Moritz to Zermatt, crossing over 291 bridges and through 91 tunnels along the way.

The Bernina Express is another sightseeing line that winds its way through the Bernina Range down to Tirano, Italy. Renowned as the highest railway to cross the Alps, the journey climbs up to the glistening glaciers before descending to the palms of Italy far below. The line between Thusis–Valposchiavo–Tirano has UNESCO World Heritage Status, and thanks to the modern panoramic cars, guests can enjoy unrestricted views of the unspoiled Alpine vistas beyond.
